Preschool News

by Janet Arkin, Preschool Director

What an incredible summer we had at the Price Family Preschool! This year's summer camp enrollment was our largest yet, with more children than ever before filling our classrooms and playground with laughter, curiosity and joy. From exciting water play days under the warm San Diego sun to creative art projects, sensory experiences, music, science activities and plenty of outdoor adventures, every week was filled with opportunities for children to explore, make friends and create lasting memories. It was wonderful to see so many smiling children enjoying all that summer had to offer.

Before we knew it, summer came to an end and our new school year began. Our classrooms are once again buzzing with excitement as we welcome back many returning students, eager to reconnect with teachers and friends. We are thrilled to welcome so many new families who are beginning their own journey with our Preschool community. Watching new friendships form and seeing children grow more confident each day reminds us why this work is so meaningful.

In September, we begin preparing for the High Holy Days, with hands-on experiences that engage all of the children's senses. They will create beautiful 3-D apple trees, bake and taste delicious apple treats and explore the fascinating world of apples, bees and honey. Through stories, art, cooking, science and play, our preschoolers will discover the traditions and symbols of the season while celebrating the sweetness of a new year together.

As always, we are grateful for the trust our families place in us each day. We look forward to a wonderful year filled with learning, laughter, meaningful Jewish experiences and a strong sense of community. We wish all of our Preschool families and community a sweet, healthy and joy filled New Year!

A Look Back

As summer break ended, Preschool, Torah School and Community Jewish High welcomed new and returning families for the academic year. In preparation, Preschool and Temple staff participated in CPR and First Aid training.

On August 28, we enjoyed the Back-to-School Family Shabbat with dinner, a family service, s'mores and the consecration and mezuzah hanging for our Torah School new bathrooms and courtyard.

We are excited to announce a special opportunity to support our Torah School and the Alice & Phil Cohn Torah School Endowment while creating a lasting tribute by purchasing an engraved commemorative brick in the new courtyard. Each personalized brick can be inscribed with a name, family message, or dedication, creating a beautiful pathway that celebrates the generations of students over the years. Visit the Temple website for pricing and to learn more.

Our popular Wisdom of Aging series began a new session that will meet on the last Tuesday morning of each month. It's not too late to register and there is no prerequisite. Choir practice for the High Holy Days continued, and we held the first community Kumsitz event on August 15. Over 80 people enjoyed dinner before gathering in the courtyard at sunset for music and havdalah.

Music Notes from Michelle

by Michelle Jirkovsky, Music Director

There are certain melodies that seem to live inside us all year long, quietly waiting. Then, as the High Holy Days approach, we hear the first few notes and suddenly, we are home. Perhaps the melody transports us to the synagogue where we grew up, standing beside our parents or grandparents. Perhaps it recalls a beloved cantor, a childhood choir or a holiday table surrounded by family. Or perhaps it is a newer melody, one that our children have brought home and taught to us.

This year, our Temple Emanu-El community will embrace the theme of L'Dor V'Dor, "from generation to generation." Aimee Oberndorfer Lê will invite us to create meaningful connections among the generations through programming, food, celebration, learning, storytelling and, of course, music.

Music may be one of the most powerful ways that Judaism travels from one generation to the next. Jewish music does not live on the printed page alone, but travels through human voices. Someone sings a melody to us, we carry it within us and one day, we may teach it to someone else.

Returning or t'shuvah is an important aspect of the Days of Awe. We return to prayers and melodies that have accompanied the Jewish people for generations. Yet even when the words and tunes remain the same, we do not return to them as the same people. Another year has shaped us. We bring new joys, new losses, new questions and new hopes into the Sanctuary. Each year we hear the familiar music through changed hearts.

I am excited to begin exploring L'Dor V'Dor through the music we share. In our Torah School Tefillah classes, students will discover that they are not simply learning prayers and songs, they are becoming the newest links in an extraordinary musical chain. At Family Shabbat, children, parents, grandparents and friends will lift their voices together. Through our choirs, preschool music, congregational celebrations and worship, we will honor the melodies that have carried us here while continuing to discover new music that will carry Judaism into the future.

L'Dor V'Dor is not a one-way transmission. Our children inherit our melodies, but they also teach us to hear those melodies anew. They bring fresh energy, new interpretations and their own growing voices to our tradition. Every generation has something to teach and something to learn.

As we begin the new year, I invite you to think about the Jewish music that connects you to another generation. Is there a melody that reminds you of someone you love? A song you learned at camp, in religious school, at a family seder or perhaps a Yiddish lullaby your grandmother sang to you? Is there a newer song that a child or grandchild has introduced to you? Please share those musical memories with us. Better yet, come sing them with us!

May 5787 be a year in which we listen deeply to one another, celebrate the voices of every generation and add our own voices to the sacred song of the Jewish people.

Women of Temple Emanu-El

by Barbara Chancy and Nancy Marcus, Co-Presidents

We wish you a happy and healthy New Year- L'Shanah Tova Tikatevu v'Umetuchah! May we all be inscribed in the Book of Life for the coming year.

Summer brought us together for activities and fall events are being planned. All members of the Women of Temple Emanu-El are invited to the Member Appreciation Evening on Wednesday, September 30 in the sukkah. Dinner will be at 6 pm with a program to follow.

Look forward to an evening event on Wednesday, October 21. Details will be available soon. The Artisan Festival will be held on Sunday, November 1. The Committee has been hard at work, and is excited that there will be over 35 artists – some for the first time, and others who returned from past years. Here are ways you can help:

- Come and shop.
- Volunteer to work a shift that day.
- Donate Gift Cards to restaurants, shops and services for the Silent Auction. You can leave them in the Temple Office marked for WRJ – we are already collecting them.
- Enjoy lunch at the Food Truck. Senor Wooffle will be returning, with delicious food including vegetarian and vegan options. And their root beer floats are fabulous!
- Check out the booths on the patio featuring specialty foods.
- Start your holiday shopping at the Hanukkah table.
- Become an underwriter. Donations of any amount are appreciated, and a $500 donation really does make a difference.

You can make a donation on the TEESD Donate page of the Temple website, under the Sisterhood tab. Proceeds from the Artisan Festival support our graduating high school seniors by offering scholarships to pursue their higher education goals.

Non-perishable food for High Holy Day Food Drive

Over one in four people in San Diego face food insecurity, and that number is growing. Children, veterans and the elderly make up a significant part of that group. Many adults are facing the difficult choice of using their money to pay for housing, medication or food, since their money cannot stretch to cover everything.

Each year, the Social Action Committee coordinates Temple Emanu-El's collection of non-perishable food and grocery store gift cards to be donated to the Jewish Family Service Hand Up Food Pantry. Though many congregations hold food drives during the High Holy Days, Temple Emanu-El often collects more than all other congregations combined.

Grocery bags will be given out following Rosh Hashanah services. Bring your donations to any Yom Kippur service using those bags or any other, or leave items in the lobby of the Temple office building any time during September. If it's more convenient, we are also collecting gift cards to local stores, or donations to the Social Action Fund, designated for the High Holy Day Food Drive. You can mail in gift cards or checks, donate online through the Temple website, or bring to the collection box in the Sanctuary lobby. For any questions, please email socialaction@teesd.org.

Most needed items are canned food, including tuna, chicken, soups, fruit, vegetables, beans, peanut butter and high protein items. Also welcome are pasta, rice, oatmeal, breakfast cereal, cake mixes, and dehydrated mashed potatoes. Please – no glass jars.

We appreciate your support for San Diegans facing food insecurity.

Temple Emanu-El Book Group

by Jane Lofton, Book Group Coordinator

The Temple Emanu-El book group meets every other month in members' homes near the Temple. We begin with snacks at 6:30pm and hold our discussion from 7 – 8:30pm.

For our September meeting, we have selected Henna House by Nomi Eve. The San Diego Public Library has several copies of the book.

The book focuses on the traditions of Yemenite Jews in the early twentieth century. A young girl is in danger of being adopted by the local Muslim community if her father, who is in poor health, dies and leaves her an orphan before she is able to marry.

Please contact me at janelofton@gmail.com for the meeting address to attend in person, or to be added to our email list for future meetings.

Adult Programming

Music with Michelle

Tuesdays at 11 am

Join Music Director Michelle Jirkovsky on Tuesday mornings at 11 am for an ongoing series exploring the stories, songs, and soundtrack of Jewish life. Together, we'll journey through Jewish music history—from ancient melodies and cantorial greats to Broadway composers, camp songs, contemporary Jewish artists, and even secular musicians with Jewish roots. Along the way, we'll listen, learn, reminisce, sing, and share memories of the music that has shaped our identities and communities.

Class is free; registration is appreciated. No class on September 8, 22 and 29.

Wisdom of Aging

Next class is Tuesday, September 29
from 10:30 am - 12 pm

This program is designed to give participants the tools to live meaningful and productive lives while coping with the unavoidable stresses of aging. Participants will have the opportunity to share their perspectives with each other while engaging in meaningful conversations.

The class meets the last Tuesday of the month from August through December. The class will not meet in November due to Thanksgiving.

$30 for this series. Register online.

Proposition Seminar

Wednesday, October 7 at 7 pm

If you are confused by the number and complexity of the propositions each election, you are not alone. If you want to be a knowledgeable voter, you should be congratulated. Our Social Action Committee is here to help.

We are fortunate that Jason Bercovitch has agreed to lead the presentation. Bercovitch is the District Director for Congressman Scott Peters, where he has been working since 2013, specializing in immigration, foreign affairs, financial services and outreach to local small businesses and faith-based communities. He is actively involved with the San Diego Jewish community, serving on committees at ADL, AJC and Jewish Family Service.

All registered voters will receive a mail ballot. Yours may not have arrived by the time of the Seminar, so be ready to take notes. This year, the program will be hybrid – both in person at the Temple and via Zoom. To ensure that we cover as much material as possible, all questions must be submitted in writing or by using the Zoom “chat” feature, and may be combined if appropriate.

For planning purposes, we are asking that participants register in advance to attend, whether in person or on line. All are welcome, whether they are or are not Temple members, but please do not post on social media. Register through the Temple's weekly emails or through the website.

There is no charge, but donations to the Social Action Fund are welcome. If you have questions about the event, please email socialaction@teesd.org.

If you have moved since the last election or are just turning 18, make sure that you are currently registered to vote. If you need to register or check your registration, please go to sos.ca.gov/elections. The last day to register to vote is October 19.
